Success Stories

Interim CFO

A prominent hospital forming a healthcare alliance with nearby hospitals needed to hire a CFO but wanted to wait until they knew where the position would be located. The hospital turned to M<sup>2</sup> for an interim solution. M<sup>2</sup> helped to define the duties required immediately and mid-term, and identified a consultant who matched perfectly. They brought not only the right experience but also the right cultural fit to ensure that financial functions during transition would stay on track until details of the new association were established.

Interim HR Director

An instrumentation company being purchased by a large conglomerate needed an interim HR director during the transition. M<sup>2</sup> brought a senior consultant with merger and acquisition expertise to handle the engagement. Due diligence also identified that the instrumentation company's entire HR function needed upgrading to maintain competitiveness. The conglomerate agreed. The consultant showed his expertise during the initial phase. He was subsequently hired and tasked with building and managing a more appropriate HR function for this $400 million company.
